

HONEY NEEDS YOUR HELP!

Honey came to CARA in June 2009 from owners that were no longer able to keep her. She is a five-year old, purebred Boxer, sporting a most fashionable tan and white short coat. Honey is house trained and loves nothing better than hanging around humans.

A suspicious growth on her chest led to a trip to the vet where she was diagnosed with cancer. The vet said the prognosis is good; once the tumor is removed and a clean-cut achieved, there is an 80% chance of her having a normal, healthy life (breed average is 12 years). Estimated cost of surgery is $600.00

CARA's donations are down (thanks to the economic slump) and vet costs have increased; if every person that sees this flyer would contribute $5.00, we feel confident we'd get enough to cover her medical costs.

If you can help (and be sure to tell your friends/neighbors, too), please send your tax deductible donation to: CARA P.O. Box 2642, Sanford, NC 27330 (Attn: "Honey" on the memo line). Or, make your donation from CARA's website (www.cara-nc.org) using PayPal. Together, we can make a HUGE difference in this dog's life.
